

Zerona Physician Presented With "Best Overall Body Makeover" Award

Dr. Thomas E. Young was awarded for his overall body contouring results by THE Aesthetic Show.

Dallas, TX (PRWEB) July 06, 2011 -- Santa Barbara Medical Innovations (SBMI) announced today Dr. Thomas E. Young, one of nine hundred Zerona physicians', received the prestigious "Best Overall Body Makeover" award at THE Aesthetic Show last month.

Dr. Young of Young Medical Spa in Center Valley, PA, an expert in body contouring, received the top honor for his remarkable body transformation results from his famous "The Jodi Project". Dr. Young and his team performed a year-long full body makeover resulting in amazing results and a very pleased patient.

"We are thrilled with Dr. Young's recognition by THE Aesthetic Show," said Michael Browning, senior vice president of marketing and business development of SBMI. "This award continues to establish how effective non-invasive body contouring products, such as Zerona, have become in the last few years. Zerona provides patients the ability to transform their bodies without surgery, pain, bruising or swelling."

THE Aesthetic Show, held in Las Vegas, recognized and honored physician's who had the best clinical outcome in the aesthetic field. Show attendees submitted photographs depicting their best results and were judged by a panel of dermatologists, plastic surgeons and members of the media, including Keith Veseleny, American Health and Beauty Editor in chief.

The FDA granted market clearance of Zerona for the safe and effective circumferential reduction of fat. Patients have lost an average of 4.1 inches from their waists, hips and thighs in two weeks with Zerona treatments. This average exceeds the 3.5 inches reported through the double-blind, randomized, multi-site clinical trials submitted to the FDA.
